

No More Excuses: Voting Rights Now!

Transcript:

Every person has to stand and defend voting rights. Voting should be for all people.

Voting rights are under attack like we have not seen since the days of Jim Crow. Now is the time to ensure a national standard that will protect and expand our access to the ballot.

Mr. President, we demand voting rights now. There is no excuse to not pass voting rights reform. All other rights depend on the right to vote. It is the number one issue of our times at this moment. Get this done.

What do we want? Voting rights! When do we want it? Now!

Just over 100 years ago, brave women stood on this very spot, with much the same message that we deliver today: full and equal voting rights for all. Fellas, women are going to lead the way.

Stay with us. Follow the message. Keep on keeping on and we are going to fight this good fight.
